The State Police Radio Communications Division will install and maintain the Radar device without charge for labor—cost will be for parts only. The Police Officers received instruction on how to operate it. It is guaranteed for one year. This is a very effective and necessary piece of equipment and many speeders were apprehended.

For many years, I asked for insurance coverage of our policemen; and in 1968, the Budget Committee allowed $100, for same. As approved by the N. H. Municipal Association, the Policemen of Henniker are insured by the Herman Davis Agency, Concord, N. H. The Cost is $84, a year for the following coverage:

Loss of Life	$5,000
Total Disability ($50.00 a week for 2 years.)
Medical Reimbursement	$ 500.00

Income for the year is as follows:

Parking Tickets	$ 874.00
Police Service	24.50
District Court	4.84

Total Income	$ 903.34

Amount Raised by taxes for Police Dept.	$6,800.00

The State Police Radio Communications Division placed into operation, a new F-M Communication System for the use of all enforcement within the State on December 15, 1968. The Henniker Police Dept. was notified on November 12, 1968 that the present system will be phased out as of July 1, 1969 which will make our present State Police Radio obsolete. This new system will not replace our local two-way radio system.

The new transistorized General Electric "MASTR" mobile radios will connect the New Hampshire State Police Headquarters in Concord, N. H., other State Law Enforcement Officers and towns and cities police departments. There are two frequencies, one for car-to-car communications, which the present system does not have, and one for car-to-base (Concord, N. H.). The car-to-car will be used primarily for radar, pursuits, surveillances and other business without interfering with headquarters.

Because of early purchases by many cities and towns, including Henniker, the State quotes a price of $637. instead of the original estimated cost of $750. per mobile radio unit. The State of N. H. State Police Radio Communication Division will install and maintain the radio with no charge for labor, but cost of parts used in the maintenance of the radio will be the town's responsibility, as now is the case.

If The Henniker Police Dept. meets the 11 requirements for participation in the State Police Radio Program; and the necessary criteria of the Federal and State Highway Safety Acts provided under Chapter 239-B:6, we will be eligible for 50% reimbursement for (1) mobile radio—saving the town $318.50. We are in the process of establishing the committee which will consist of: a member of the town's Board of Selectmen, Police Department (Chief), Road Agent, School Board, Doctor or funeral director, and lawyer, if available, and one or more interested citizens. After the committee formation and appointments are listed with the N. H. Highway Safety Agency, Henniker will be considered to be "implementing" a Safety Program, thus making us eligible for assistance of Federal Funds apportioned to the State of New Hampshire. Possibly, there will be other funds available in the future.

On August 14, 1968, the State of New Hampshire entered into the National Crime Information System of Computerized data. This system, operated by the F.B.I. is made available to all law enforcement officers of the State through the State Police Communications Center of The State Police Headquarters, Concord, N. H. The IBM terminal system is located there and on direct line to Washington, 24 hours a day. The N.C.I.C. enables any Police Department to receive instant information on wanted persons, stolen cars and guns and many items bearing serial numbers for identification, as well as making entries into the system on the above. This is one of the greatest advancements to law enforcement. From Sept. 1, to Dec. 1 1968, the N.C.I.C. hits were as follows: 61 stolen cars-recovered, 2 stolen guns-recovered, 1 article-recovered and 8 wanted persons-apprehended.

The Department handled 161 court cases in 1968 as follows: Defective Tires (12), Defective Equipment (3), Speed (38), Stop Sign (28), Disturbing The Peace (30), Driving While Intoxicated (3), Drunkenness (4), Yellow Line (4), Disorderly Conduct (2), Parking Violations (2), Obstructing Driver's View (2), Possession of Alcoholic Beverage (6), Operating After Suspension (2), Uninspected Vehicle (2), Minor-Misrepresenting Age To Procure Alcoholic Beverage (1), Operating Without a License (1), Unregistered Vehicle (2), Misuse of Plates (1), Following Too Closely-Accident Resulting (1), Failure to Keep Right (1), Failure to Give Signal (1), Taking Vehicle Without Authority (1), Unlicensed Dog (1), Failure to Keep Dog Restrained (1), Failure to Have Car Under Control (1), Procuring Liquor For A Minor (1), Disobeying Police Officer (1), Depositing Rubbish (2), One-Way Street (3), Driving To Endanger (1), Failure To Have Safety Chain (1), Passing School Bus (1), Larceny by Check (1).

Other Police Activities consisted of: New England College: Graduation, Homecoming, Winter Carnival and Spring Week-ends, Parents' Day, Freshmen Orientation; Henniker High School: Graduation, Basketball Games, Dances, Drug Seminar; Memorial Day Parade, Traffic Control at Auctions and Funerals. Halloween and July 4th are the two major holidays where our Department is out in full force to control pranksters, but the controled halloween parties by town groups help a great deal and give the youth a good time. Tucker Free Library Coin Displays calls for the protection of an Officer, also.

Because of fires in the Depot Hill Area, (Merrimack Farmers), (Storage Shed-Lester Connor's), the Henniker Police-men, with the assistance of members of the Henniker Fire Dept., did nightly patrol duty for a period of time in conjunction with the regular nightly patrol duty scheduled.

The force, assisted by the firemen, and the N. H. Conservation Officers, Butterfield and Griswold, searched for a lost deer hunter in the Mink Hill area. The hunter walked out of the woods by himself about 3:30 A.M. The hunter and his associates were taken to the Fire House by Chief Tucker at 4:00 A.M. to 6:00 A.M. After breakfast, the chief and another town resident, Christopher Hardy, with snowmobiles went back in the area and found the deer. At 11:30 A.M. they were on their way home to Massachusetts happy, proud and thankful.

The biggest challenge of the year was, of course, Henniker's Bicentennial Celebration—the 200th Birthday. The Policemen constructed and decorated a float to enter into the parade—Richard Senecal was riding the float as the “Present Day Policeman” and Arthur Starr, smoking a TD Pipe, was riding as the “First Constable”. The float was pulled by a tractor owned and driven by Francis Taylor.

Our force covered all programmed activities. Some beginning early morning and ending early A.M. of the next day. The parade was handled by the Town Policemen, auxiliary, Richard Senecal and three State Troopers—Buskey, Fracteau and Perrault. This was requested by the Chief and granted by Col. Regan of the State Police. It was estimated there were at least 10,000 people to view the parade alone. There were about 700 cars directed in and around a single field (athletic field Old Concord Road) for the fireworks display on Sunday night, which was the grand finale, and not a single accident, dented fender or any confusion. The weekend was a success on the records. I, as chief, was proud of the efficiency in which everything was handled, since we were told prior to the weekend that the Henniker Police could not handle it.

The number of accidents increased this past year, partly due to road conditions with early snowfalls, vehicles not equipped with snow tires and careless and inattentive driving. Breaking, Entering and Theft increased—certain properties hit more than once. The Department assisted other police departments, all night stake outs increased also. A large portion of wages were for scheduled nightly patrols which I feel are necessary to curb many wrong doings. The “Man In The Blue” has a psychological effect upon a community, just knowing he is out on patrol, tends to decrease many violations of the law. Also, I, Chief Tucker, took time-off my regular job and did many hours of daytime parking control duty in the Town Square, which has been and still is one of our worst problems. In the 1969 budget, more daytime duty will be included.

The records show (1) major catastrophe—a hit and run—the victim was Eugene Gove, West Henniker. Many hours of investigation of the town and state police did not turn up any evidence. The case, of course, open; although the lapse of time indicates an unsolved one.

The Dept. served (6) dog notices to dog owners to abate nuisances caused by their dogs this year. Also, stray dogs were a problem—not collared, licensed or tagged—were running our streets, chased and killed deer. Our State Conservation Officers were called in to assist us. Beyond the call of duty, two of our policemen took two dogs to the Vets in Concord, because they were reported to be at a neighbor's house with quills in them.

Because of many occurrences of Disturbing The Peace (court records) at the Ocean Born Mary House, The Board of Selectmen passed an ordinance prohibiting parking in front of the house from 6:00 P.M. to 9:00 A.M. Signs were erected—arrests made. With the cooperation of many and articles written by the Russels denying the Ghost stories, these have been cut to practically none.

Telephone calls, of course, had an increase. Many are for: information, messages for our District Court, Advice on certain laws, messages for the Highway Dept., credit checks etc., as well as reported accidents and other complaints.

According to the Henniker District Court Juvenile Records, (which are not public under the law), and the experience of the Henniker Police Department, Juvenile Delinquency is not a problem in our town. There are, however, some experiences with alcohol, but with the parent's cooperation, most of these were corrected. We contribute our good record to (1) Parents' control and discipline in the home. (2) Group activities—staffed by volunteers of the community, for this, we are fortunate. I will list a few: Cub Scouts, Boys Scouts, Girls Scouts, Cadets, Little League Baseball, Little League Basketball, Summer Reading Program at the Tucker Free Library and other library sponsored activities, Rainbow, Church Choirs and Fellowships, Square Dancing, (3) The Henniker High School Enrichment Program, and many other supervised activities—Dances, Basketball, Baseball, Soccer, etc. (4) Henniker Community Center. A Historical Town Building used for many activities—Kindergarten, Halloween Parties, Dances, etc. The Town gives little financial support to the center. Parents of this community take great pride in providing their youths with the proper environment, education and activities so that they can grow up to be good citizens.

We are fortunate to have Dr. and Mrs. Francis Brown, who render their services to the Department anytime of the day or night, our District Nurse Mae Maillette, and assistant Arlene Dumm, all Town Departments, Citizens and our State Police, who are very cooperative and assist us throughout the year.

Again, I wish to personally thank Norman Parmenter and employees of the Henniker Pharmacy for their contributions to the "Blue System".

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF TUCKER FREE LIBRARY

This last year has been an eventful one for the Tucker Free Library, with many new things accomplished and many others in progress. The Librarians Report shows that use of the library increases each year and a comparison of this report with those from other towns of like size will show that Henniker people rank high in the number of books and magazines they read. The greatest single increase in reading is by our school children, and this is encouraged by cooperation between school and library.

The number of books purchased is greater each year, and it is planned to continue this program, with special attention being given to our research facilities. Improvements to the library building this year include renovations of the rest room, the purchase of a new rug for the Adult Reading Room, and the installation of a new furnace. The furnace is designed to heat the part of the library presently in use and the Francis Lane Childs Historical Room, and is adequate to heat the rest of the building as it is needed.

Work on the Francis Lane Childs Historical Room has begun, and it is the hope of the Trustees to make the room itself a historical memento of Henniker as well as a repository for our historical collection. So far as possible materials having a direct relation to Henniker and its history will be used, and Henniker craftsmen, artisans and artists will do the work of completing the room.

The library had an active summer program for children which included story hours and a reading contest, through the cooperation of the Friends of the Library. This group and other volunteers also held regular work meetings in the library prior to the Bicentennial to help with that event. Several historical displays were made, one prior to the Bicentennial, one during the Bicentennial, and one for the display of the coin collection at which Dr. Willia Mandrey spoke. Mrs. Willa Brigham has catalogued the growing library collection of phonograph records which are available on loan. The library will be open in the afternoon and evening of Town Meeting Day with a Bicentennial display which will include pictures taken during the celebration by Mr. Dean Morrison.

The Trustees would like to express their appreciation to the people of Henniker for their support of the library and for their use of it, and to extend special thanks to John and Evelyn Hollis and to Harold Stewart for their dedicated work to make our library better each day.

DUANE SANBORN,

Chairman

REPORT OF THE HENNIKER BICENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

The spectacular success of Henniker's four day Bicentennial Celebration made it quite clear that credit is due not to the Bicentennial Committee, but to every citizen who gave so much time and effort to create an occasion which will be long remembered. The program printed here lists the official events with those who sponsored them, each of which was much more successful than we even dared hope, and which drew thousands of people to our town.

We have been asked to explain, if it is possible, just what it was that made our birthday party so outstanding, and other towns have consulted us for advice as to their own upcoming celebrations, but the only word we have to offer in this regard is the name of our town—Henniker. Everyone who was asked to perform any task, no matter how difficult, did it willingly and well. Those who were not asked to take on a specific project used their imaginations to add their own contributions.

It would be unfair to single out any one person or any one group for special thanks but we would like to mention some whose names and deeds are not necessarily listed in the official records. These include those from neighboring towns who took part in our parade, Merle Patenaude who decorated the parks of the town with flowers in the colors of our flag, Robert Jewell who produced the historical phonograph record by Francis Childs, Tom Hope who secured the contingent of antique automobiles for the parade, Arthur Starr who made a birthday gift to the town of the apperance of the Nathan Hale Ancient Fifes and Drums in the parade, the Henniker Police Department which handled the massive flow of traffic and pedestrians so well that there was not a single accident, Dean Morrison who took hundreds of pictures during the four days, working day and night, and New England College which provided meals and lodging for visiting groups.

The Bicentennial Committee made a special effort, beginning with its first meeting, to keep complete records of all planning and all events and this collection of material will be housed in the Francis Lane Childs Historical Room of the Tucker Free Library for the benefit of those who are in charge of similar celebrations in the future. On Town Meeting Day this year a Bicentennial Display, using part of this material and other which will be loaned, will be on exhibit during the afternoon and evening.

The Committee feels that one great result of our celebration was a renewed pride in our town and its history and it is our hope that a Henniker Historical Society will soon be formed to help conserve our past and present history for the sake of those who come after us and will love this town as we do.

ANNUAL REPORT HENNIKER PLANNING BOARD

The Board held regular meetings on the third Tuesday of each month, except May, July and August. These meetings are open to interested citizens—come and join in our discussions.

The January and February meetings and hearings were devoted to the revised Zoning Ordinance and preparation of a new zoning map to be distributed before town meeting. This proposal was voted down on the ballot in March.

During March and April work was begun on a Mobile Home Park Ordinance for the Town as a result of a citizens' petition. This was completed and presented at a special Town Meeting in May and passed. Mr. Robert Goss was appointed to the Board by the Selectmen.

At the June meeting the parking lots were discussed. Chag's lot was underway, and the proposed Parmenter-Buxton-Town lot was to be further filled and leveled. These two lots have added much needed space for center parking. More is needed in the future.

September and October meetings were spent mapping and naming of all town roads. A new map was prepared and submitted to the selectmen for correction, changes or additions. When this has been completed, the map will be brought up to date and printed.

In November, a special meeting was called by the selectmen and planning board with the budget committee and interested citizens to meet with the sewer project engineers to discuss the situation. The selectmen have orders to proceed with the sewage problem within 2 years.

The December meeting was a second meeting of the combined Boards, a State department member, and the project engineers to discuss the reduced sewer project. The Board urges your support at Town Meeting to obtain our working plans, and to authorize a bond issue for the project, so that it may be implemented when interest rates are favorable to go ahead. This project must go forward and needs everyone's support.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HOLTON, Secretary

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HENNIKER COMMUNITY CENTER

During the past year the Center's activities have been reduced to a baseball and basketball program. With the exception of the Bicentennial no new activities were undertaken at the Center.

Our present Little League Baseball program continues to be a favorite activity and attracts 60 or more boys annually. The Little League Baseball team and the Men's Town Team has stimulated interest in this sport. This early exposure to this sport to our youth, in our opinion, is reflected in the present High School basketball program. The unfortunate part of these two programs is the lack of attendance by our Townspeople.

The Center is still the meeting house for several other activities including the Kindergarten, however, it is not utilized economically. In the Town's interest the Center suggests that you use this facility for your activity.

During the Bicentennial the Center provided space for all types of programs and a snack bar. Due to our indoor location our sales were not up to expectations, however, the final results indicated a modest profit. The financial result of this activity and our regular financial statement are as follows;

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

This year has seen a number of significant developments in the Henniker Schools. For one, we have placed a greater emphasis upon developing more individualized programs. In this respect, individualized math was instituted in the Junior High, a mass production project was added in Industrial Arts and innovative techniques were introduced into the social studies curriculum. The attempt is being made here to suit our programs to the needs, interests and abilities of the individual students. Also in the curriculum area we are currently re-evaluating our Elementary school reading program and studying the feasibility of establishing a social studies resource center in the High School. A formalized published Course of Study is being prepared and a system of audits has been established for next year.

With the cooperation of the teaching staff a program of teacher supervision was adopted and implemented which should assist in improving the quality of instruction. A teacher handbook has been completed as well as an Audio-visual handbook. Inservice workshops have been held for teachers and inter-school visitations encouraged. We have also published a monthly teacher's Newsletter in order to encourage the interchange of the newest educational ideas.

An enrichment program providing increased educational opportunities for students has been instituted with significant aid from parents and the staff of New England College. We have also increased our cooperative efforts with that institution.

An expanded Open House program was held through the cooperation of the students, staff and Hot Lunch personnel. Regular weekly press releases have been undertaken in order to keep the public more fully informed.

New Report cards were adopted for the Elementary School which indicate the students progress as related to his own ability as well as his relative standing in class. A change in the academic warning system was adopted in the High School; so that warnings were issued only once a term but providing for increased staff contact with parents.

Revised social rules, school rules and dress codes were adopted in the High School. A detention system was instituted in conjunction with a system of teacher meetings on problem students.

Student Council has been revitalized and a unique Faculty-Student Senate instituted. These programs have resulted in students sharing greater responsibility for regulation of their own conduct. Student Council has taken a larger role in school affairs; sponsoring dress down days, regulating activities, publishing a student handbook, opening up an office and generally improving school morale. School social events have been increased, and paperback book sales have been instituted.

The fact that so many new programs have been successfully implemented this year is due to the excellent cooperation to be found between administration staff and students.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS J. WATMAN,
Principal

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

For the past few years my reports have attempted to look to the future on the local, state and national level. My prognostications have been reasonably accurate and I probably should continue to press my luck and continue the same format. However, I do not now have the large number of contacts at the state level that I enjoyed while I held office in the School Administrators Association and with changes in the party holding the top offices at both the state and federal level anything that I could predict would be pure "guess-timate" and highly lacking in merit. Therefore, this year, I will confine my report to the local level and I shouldn't find it too difficult to provide a bit of food for thought and hopefully some reaction. The one exception follows:

I always have a hard time getting people concerned about proposed legislation and regulations at the state level. Reaction after the fact has been more than adequate, but of course, was of little value. The State Board of Education has, in the study stage, regulations, which if adopted, would make a tremendous impact on your school system. The legislative "hopper" is filled with resolutions pertaining to education which if enacted would have a very drastic effect, not only on your school system, but on your school budget as well. Citizens who have a concern in these areas, and I know they are legion, should at least request their representatives to the General Court to keep them advised of proposed school legislation and then, after thoughtful consideration, advise their representatives of their feelings and if possible attend the hearings on the proposed bills. If there is no reaction among the citizenry, the legislature cannot help but assume that the proposal is acceptable to them. If there is no reaction prior to the passage of a bill or regulation, then there should be none when the time for implementation arrives.

It would appear that the formulation of the proposed four town cooperative will not materialize now or in the near future. Hopkinton has chosen to continue its individual operation and has voted a bond issue to construct additions to both its high and elementary schools. Hillsboro has already moved into a new six room addition which makes it possible to continue their small cooperative effort. Both these communities have solved their space problems but will do little to improve their educational offerings which has been the forgotten factor in most cooperative discussions.

Where does this leave Henniker? Your School Board, recognizing the need of improved educational opportunities in its grades seven through twelve, joined with the Weare School Board to study whether there was anything they could do jointly to improve their existing set up. Several consultants from the State Department of Education joined the administrators to prepare information from which the Boards could make a judgment. After several months of study it was decided that although the two communities could join in their educational efforts, that the advantages gained would not justify the additional costs involved.

I can visualize that Hillsboro-Deering and Henniker could get together and provide considerable improvement over the existing situation but at the present time it does not appear that the climate is right to sell such a proposal. Therefore, for the time being, we'll just have to do the best we can with existing programs.

There are two factors that the district will be considering in the near future, one immediate and the other in a year or so. There has been for some time considerable interest in some quarters for the establishment of a district operated Kindergarten. Due to new regulations being imposed by the State Health & Welfare Department, the private kindergarten will be finding it almost impossible to continue operation. Therefore, the pressures for the district to assume this responsibility will be increased.

Secondly, the State Department of Education is expected, within a year, to adopt a set of Elementary School Standards.

We have had an opportunity to examine their proposals and among the requirements as they presently stand are — Library and librarian services, Guidance service, Kindergarten, Special Education for Handicapped Children, Remedial program, part time administrator with secretarial help, and improved nursing service. It is obvious that the implementation of such standards will be costly and that the present elementary school plant would be inadequate to cope with such proposals.

It would appear to me that the Henniker School District has more than its share of educational problems to solve in the next few years. In my one remaining year of service to the district I hope to make a contribution in alleviating the situation and that our directions for the future will be to meet the challenges of the changing tide.

The interest of such a large number of citizens in the well-being of their school youngsters has been encouraging and I am grateful for the cooperation this office has received in their efforts to be of service to the district.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT :-: IN SERVICE EDUCATION EQUALS PROJECT CAPE

A REASON WHY

The rising cost of education is a problem of immense concern to all of us. Although many factors contribute to this continual rise one might properly ask if this constant increase carries with it a corresponding increase in the quality of the education your children are receiving. This is not an easy question to answer, and it is not the intent of this report to attempt an analysis of this problem. However, it will be the objective of this report to discuss a way by which we may, at least, be able to provide more thorough justification for many of the expenditures made, and to assist our teachers in developing ways to achieve the most efficient use of these materials in a well coordinated and planned program of education. Project CAPE represents the start of that effort. While a CAPE progress report is listed on another page in this Section, the emphasis here will, nevertheless, focus in on this business of curriculum development and in-service education as being the best means of supporting wise expenditures for your school system if carried on in a planned arrangement over a period of years.

During the past year we have tried to conduct a series of workshops for our teachers for the purpose of bringing to them new ideas as well as restatements of the best of the old to assist them in their classroom work. While this represents a serious effort on our part, the value of it can only really be assessed when we are able to provide an opportunity for further investigation and the chance to try things out in a classroom situation. These ideas require time and the opportunity to sit down in a professional atmosphere, free from the normal routine of every day duties, to explore, discuss and to use those funds available in the most efficient manner possible in putting into practice the ideas that are presented.

This is not a simple task. It cannot be achieved in the normal 180 day school year. Thorough exploration into the many new curriculum ideas and their relationship to the development of a closely coordinated system for the school requires many hours of devoted study. This can only be accomplished through a type of intensive summer work such as that done in Project CAPE. Yet curriculum development is just the first step. Once the idea has been formed and a plan laid out, the next step, that of in-service education, must be taken. This simply means taking the plan and working with the teachers to put it into operation. In order to derive the full benefit of this, a period of time that greatly exceeds weeks and even months needs to be made available. Thus, if the kinds of programs developed through the CAPE Project are to be fully effective, they must be kept as an on-going portions of our educational system.

While it is one of the aims of Project CAPE to bring about the best use of the funds available, it is also of the utmost importance to keep in mind that the most important purpose is to bring about the kind of change that will give you the best system of education possible. We are all concerned about the type and quality of education our children receive. The assurance of achieving this goal can only be given if we are constantly alert to the kinds of ideas that can lead us on the road to that good school system; one that meets the needs of all students and makes learning something that is exciting and something the child wants to do.

The future of Project CAPE is to carry out this type of plan. The Guide developed last summer and the experimental projects being carried on now are the forerunners to eventual implementation of those ideas most practical in the regular classroom. While this is going on within each school, the next phase of the project will, no doubt, be concerned with Reading. This is an area much in need of review and coordination. If the necessary funds are voted, then a thorough study of reading can be made and a sound program developed for the benefit of each child.

It cannot be denied that such a program costs money. Yet, when we consider that better than sixty percent of our budget is spent for teachers' salaries and instructional materials, doesn't it sort of make sense to spend at least a little bit of money (about $\frac{1}{2}$ of one percent of the total budget) on improving and strengthening the program being purchased? Project CAPE costs about \$3.25 per student. (We spend about \$4.00 per student for athletic transportation in grades 7-12). The only point to be made here is that the cost of this program and its ultimate benefit is a justifiable one. A chart showing the cost of CAPE follows this report.

It has been asked why is Project CAPE a joint effort of three communities. There are two answers to this question. First of all we are able to form a study committee of people representing various philosophies and ideas. This can provide for a broader exchange of points of view and hopefully a more comprehensive program. The second point brings us back to cost. The sharing of costs makes each community's share that much less, and yet does not diminish the quality or the effort of the committee. For an individual district the cost would be rather high, and enough personnel might not be available to staff the committee.

Finally, why curriculum development and in-service education? The idea is not new with me. Although new to this Union, many school districts have conducted such programs for many years. I hope that I have been able to adequately explain why I feel Project CAPE is of great value to this district. In closing I would like to draw on two resources for support. The first is from a recent publication of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. The author writes

This above all: education is not a game. The present writer—and, most likely, the present reader—have livings to earn and families to support. Jobs in education may make this possible. Yet the schools do not exist for our benefit; they serve a purpose as serious as the purpose of hospitals (and with no schools, or bad enough ones, there can be no hospitals, or only very bad ones); they serve a purpose as serious as armies or nuclear missiles (to be sure, this hardly seems to be recognized, but it is absolutely sure that man cannot fail to recognize it for many more years); they serve a purpose as serious as legislatures and courts . . . they serve a purpose at least as serious as whiskey, cosmetics, tobacco, detergents, floor wax, and automobiles.

We cannot apologize for a relentless impatience to improve education. We can never settle for "business as usual". We cannot merely write learned papers for the edification of our colleagues and the enhancement of our own professional image, or for the enlargement of our income. Our schools are not as good as they might be; they are not as good as they need to be; and it is our job to make them better. The verdict of our colleagues on us will count as nothing compared to the verdict of history on our civilization.¹

And from a poem by Edwin Markham:

We are all blind until we see,
That in the human plan
Nothing is worth the making,
If it does not make the man.
Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilt goes?
In vain we build the world unless,
The builder also grows.²

PROJECT C.A.P.E. — A PROGRESS REPORT

Project C.A.P.E., though still in a period of relative infancy has had an impact in schools and will have more as more teachers become involved in its program.

Since the project received approval last March a number of things have occurred. This brief chronology brings the status of C.A.P.E. up to date.

In order to set a proper base from which to work, a number of meetings of an organizational nature were held. The principles in these meetings included members of C.E.F.S. at the University of New Hampshire, the principals of the schools involved and the teachers selected to work on the project. These sessions helped define the project's objectives, the scope of the effort and brought to the committee thoughts on the past, present and future of the social studies. Much of the latter was achieved through consultation with Dr. David Draves and Dr. John Chaltas of the University of New Hampshire, Mr. Carter Hart, Social Studies Consultant at the State Department of Education, and a rather enlightening trip to the Union 21 Social Studies Workshop in Hampton, N. H. Coupled with a large amount of reading and a later trip to Hanover the committee was thus able to set itself to the huge task of studying curriculum, working out a useful guide and planning for its eventual implementation. The work thus done has resulted in the publication of an approximately 80 page guide, a series of demonstration units for grades 1, 4, 6, 9 and 11, plans for a series of pilot programs in grades 1, 2 and 3, and provision to receive feedback and make necessary revisions in the guide and its objectives.

The guide is not a content oriented document. It does not include a detailed outline and does not hew to the line of a particular text or publisher. Instead it provides for the teacher a discussion of what the new social studies is, what many of the devices are for teaching, lists a philosophy, objectives and implications, and details many of the skills a child should master. Also, it discusses procedures — namely student involvement in the learning process — and details a scope and sequence chart in which the areas that ought to be the theme for each year are listed and discussed with examples given for the types of topics that could be used. It gives to the teacher and the school a solid foundation upon which to build its social studies into a well coordinated and articulated program that meets the needs of all students.

The program of pilot studies involves a number of primary grade teachers in using a variety of social studies materials on a trial basis. Frequent evaluations both among the teachers involved and with all elementary teachers will be conducted.

At other levels, the units developed during the summer will be tested with a similar form of evaluation taking place.

By the end of the year it is planned that the project will have been thoroughly tested, revised where need be and many of its principles adopted for classroom use.

In order to keep this effort current an advisory committee is to be formed. This group will provide an on-going evaluation and forum for discussion so as to keep open good lines of communication among all in social studies.

All of this takes time. It will not realize fruition for some-time. However, it is a start, and if approached with an open mind will be the means to giving you and your children a good school system.
